The House

We give permanent form to ideas that have no right to exist, until they do.

Palena Studio is a house of collectible design, devoted to sculptural furniture and lighting in bronze. Our works are large in intention and restrained in gesture, conceived to be lived with for decades.

Each design begins with a single question: what kind of stillness is a room missing? The form that answers it honestly is the form we pursue, and every line that does not serve that answer is taken away.

Our language is drawn from the formal confidence of Art Deco, the organic geometry of the natural world, and the ancient material culture of Anatolia, a grammar that allows us to say something entirely our own.

Every work is made by hand and produced individually for its client.

Duo Facies, Bronze and Murano Glass

Two Faces

One face in textured Murano glass, the other in high polished bronze, held together in a single silhouette.

Bronze behaves as bronze. Stone as stone. Each material is allowed to be entirely itself, and the integrity of the object depends on this.

Venomous Horizontal

A blooming canopy of cast bronze branches, carrying translucent parchment globes stitched by hand.

Venomous Horizontal, Stitched by Hand

Made by Hand

Every surface is finished, reviewed, and finished again.

Each work is made by hand, by a small circle of craftspeople whose skills have been refined over many years.

Every material is chosen for what it is: its weight, its temperature, the way it ages, and the way it answers light across decades.

The time this requires is the work itself.

Swan Vertical

A slow cascading spiral of milky Murano glass, held in polished bronze.

Finish: Bronze and Murano

Approx. W 30″ / 76 cm · D 34″ / 86 cm · H 67″ / 170 cm

Permanence

In twenty years, its bronze will be more beautiful than on the day it arrives.

We design for the room a piece will inhabit in thirty years.
